Connecting & empowering youth as global leaders

One World youth ambassadors with Reino orphanage & Azteca Youth Choir in Ensenada, MX

About Us

The One World Children's Foundation reaches children in need through cross-cultural projects that connect, inspire and empower children. Our Bridges Beyond Borders projects bring together children from the U.S. and Mexico with music and arts as a medium for empowerment, overcoming barriers, whether geographic, cultural, or socioeconomic.

We partner with organizations in the Amazon region of Brazil, helping to ensure inspired cross-cultural arts education for children in this region of high poverty and violence.

We need Founding Donors who will help us share our unique vision and continue to grow and impact children globally.

Global Outreach

Our "Bridges Beyond Borders" projects bring together children from two countries in cultural arts exchange. These projects reach hundreds of children and the impact is life-changing.

Our projects bridge cultural and geographical boundaries, targeting at-risk youth and children in areas of need around the world. We work with international partners and rehearse and prepare a program of cross-cultural music, where youth on both sides of the border are empowered through music and shared cultural experiences. Selected youth ambassadors travel and participate, developing compassion and leadership skills.

Ensenada, Mexico - Partnerships

After months of preparation and leading weekly rehearsals in Ensenada, Mexico with 30 children at the Reino de los Niños orphanage and nearly 100 children in the Azteca Youth Choir & Orchestra, we brought the groups together with One World ambassadors for a moving concert that drew tears, changed lives, and had the audience on their feet shouting "otra!" ("encore!"). In June 2019, we return again to repeat this project and reach more children.

Our Impact — Testimonials

"Traveling to Mexico was both a cultural and personal event for me last year. While Ensenada is less than 100 miles away from Del Mar, I feel as if it has grown closer than ever before. My time in Ensenada was incredibly memorable, and has impacted my worldview. The kids we sang with, both the choir and the orphans, had the same interests and passions as I did. Although we lived in two different countries, I realized even more that the border between us is only drawn on maps, not between people."

-Mary, One World Youth Ambassador, grade 9

"It was such an eye-opening experience to travel to Ensenada with the One World Children's Choir as a chaperone. The children of Mexico were friendly and beautiful. When the combined groups sang Home together, my heart swelled. It was so beautiful to see children from different countries, cultures, and languages singing about their "home." It was unforgettable. I was so grateful my daughter could have this experience to open her eyes to a new part of the world, and their language and culture."
